2013-2014

Welcome to a new school year! We are excited to begin a new year of teaching 1st grade. We all started out last year “brand new” and enjoyed thoroughly our first group of 1st graders. We found things that worked in our classrooms and some things that didn't. We all three have got some great, new ideas about teaching 1st grade and we are thrilled to try them out on a brand new group of students. Each of us will do much of the same things in our classrooms with a few different twists and tweaks here and there. Most of the information you will be getting in this packet is generic for all three classes. Each of us may add to our own class's packet to make it more individual to our own needs.

As most of you know, this is really a brand new school year for all of us. We have a new principal, Mrs. Rundle, who has been working hard all summer to get things ready for a great, new year. There are many new faculty and staff members as well. There will be a lot of construction going on this year and we realize that coping with it at times might be tricky. We, however, will make the most of it and know that it is all worthwhile!

*If you have any questions now or later, we will share with you contact information on another page.
